

BOUND VOLUME. I

NATURE OF INDIAN SOCIETY (1800)

AND THE FOUNDATIONS OF THE PRESENT STRUCTURE

(A note and some illustrative material)

I.1 Introduction [ii]

I.2 A note on sources and themes ; the need for an enquiry. [iii - xi]

Main Sources - manuscripts and printed [iv]

Some major areas of research [vi]

Need for an enquiry [viii]

Preliminary Study [ix]

An immediate task for Calcutta, Madras and Bombay archives [x]

TITLE [page no.]	SOURCES	No. of Pages
1. The Board Explains its powers. [1]	Letter from the Board of Commissioners to the Court of Directors of the East India Co. From Vol. 2 of letters from the Board to the E.I.Co. (pages 150-8,159 and 169)	[4 pages]
2. The Making of the Bengal Zamindari Settlement [5]	From Bengal Draft Despatches No. 6, regarding draft despatch of Sept. 19 1792.	[2 pages]
3. Land Rights and Village Organisation(circa 1800) [7]	By S. Lushington, Collector of Tinnevely and Ramnad Pollams, in his report to the Madras Board of Revenue dated 29 Dec. 1800. The report running into 108 paras is given in Board's Consultations, Vol. 132 (No. 2406; 443 pages) on pages 153-308 taken from Board of Revenue Proceedings of 22.1.1801.	[4 pages]

4. The Making of present Indian Polity: A chapter from Benaras and Behar. 1810-1812 [11] James Mill - evidence to House of Commons Committee, 1832. [25 pages]
5. Share of Gross Produce going towards land revenue. Reports of some Madras Collectors. (circa 1850) [36] From Papers relating to Commutation Rates of Madras Presidency, 1855 [5 pages]
6. Land revenue in Tinnevely district: 1801-1947. A computation: as share of gross produce. [41] [11 pages]
7. Strengthening new Zemindars to safeguard land revenue. circa 1800 [52] Preamble to Bengal Regulation XLVII of 1803. [2 pages]
8. Governmental view of Dhurna and Koorh. (Traga) [54] Preamble to Bengal Regulation XXI of 1795. The practice of Koorh was known as Traga in the Gujerat districts. [2 pages]
9. Some steps in the making of the new criminal law. circa 1800. [56] Preamble and Section 2 of Bengal Regulation LIII of 1803. [5 pages]
10. The basis of the new law and order. circa 1800 [61] From Revenue Despatch to Madras. 11.2.1801 [1 page]
11. Some Aspects of Administration: Madras 1855 [62] Letter 42 of 1855 from Revenue Department to the Court of Directors of the East India Company. [8 pages]
12. Guidelines for Military Organisation 1858 [70] From Lord Ellenborough, President, Board of Commissioners to Chairman and Dy. Chairman of the East India Company. [4 pages]
13. List of some recent studies on 18th-19th century India. [74] [1 page]